OTTO VON GUERICKE UNIVERSITÄT MAGDEBURG

DZNE Deutsches Zentrum für Neurodegenerative Erkrankungen in der Helmholtz-Gemeinschaft

Vacancy Notice

The Otto von Guericke University Magdeburg (OVGU) is an internationally oriented and regionally networked university with a strong research profile.

The Faculty for Process and Systems Engineering at the Otto von Guericke University Magdeburg (OVGU) and the German Center for Neurodegenerative Diseases (DZNE) are currently accepting applications for a

to begin as soon as possible.

The future holder (m/f/d) of this position shall represent and advance the scientific field of Radiochemistry in Research and Teaching and is expected to already have convincing qualification and experience. She/he is responsible for a research cyclotron which will be in operation from 2020/2021 as joint project of OVGU and DZNE. The necessary qualification and certificates of competence are prerequisites for successful applicants. The future research focus will be on neuro-imaging using short- as well as long-living PET tracers (^{11}C Raclopride/FLB 457, ^{18}F-Fallypride, ^{18}F Amyloid Tracer, ^{18}F Tau Tracer, ^{18}F FDG, ^{18}F F-DOPA, ^{15}O H_2O) as well as the development and investigation of new tracers, in particular for neurodegenerative diseases. The Faculty is open to additional suggestions from excellent candidates.

It is expected that the holder of this chair also contributes to the key areas of research of the University. A close cooperation with the nuclear medicine in the OVGU Faculty of Medicine is planned.

Employment is based on the preconditions for appointment according to § 35 (2, 3) of the Higher Education Act for the Federal State of Saxony-Anhalt (Hochschulgesetz Sachsen-Anhalt).

The Otto von Guericke University and the DZNE aim to increase the proportion of woman researchers and specifically encourage women to apply. Applications from disabled persons will be given preference in the case of equal suitability, ability and professional expertise. The position is not suited for part-time employment.
