

Vacancy Notice

The Otto von Guericke University Magdeburg (OVGU) is an internationally oriented and regionally networked university with a strong research profile.

The Faculty of Economics and Management at the Otto von Guericke University Magdeburg (Germany) invites applications for a Full Professorship (W3, tenured) in Management Science to begin as soon as possible.

The academic responsibilities include teaching and research in the respective area.

The successful candidate is internationally established and works esp. on the modeling and solving of business problems in areas such as e.g. pricing and revenue management, production, logistics, procurement, service management, or sustainability with the help of modern quantitative and, if applicable, data-driven methods of operations research (e. g. approximate dynamic programming, Markov decision processes, simulation, metaheuristics/matheuristics, or mixed-integer/nonlinear programming).

The holder of the position is expected to cooperate closely with the members of the research cluster "Center of Operations Research and Business Analytics" (CORBA), in particular with regard to the establishment and further development of CORBA and the associated international master's degree program "Operations Research and Business Analytics". Readiness and ability to cooperate across disciplines with colleagues in mathematics, (business-) informatics and engineering sciences is expected as well as commitment in planning and realization of research projects on the basis of third-party funding. Therefore, the application should contain a teaching and research concept that documents the candidate's affinities and connectivity regarding CORBA.

He/she is expected to teach in the faculty's undergraduate and graduate programs, including classes in German and English language, esp. in the graduate program "Operations Research and Business Analytics" and in the specialisation "Logistics and Operations Management". Willingness to contribute to academic self-government is also expected.

The candidate must have teaching experience, a doctorate and be able to show evidence of additional academic achievements in the form of a Habilitation, or equivalent post-doctorate qualifications (e. g. equivalent publications or a junior professorship). Formal prerequisites for the appointment are set out especially in § 35 of the Higher Education Act for the Federal State of Saxony-Anhalt (Hochschulgesetz des Landes Sachsen-Anhalt).

Applications from disabled persons will be given priority in the case of equal suitability, ability and professional expertise. The Otto von Guericke University aims to increase the proportion of women researchers within the university and specifically encourages women to apply.
